

Miss Sally Johnson's Portrait Is Unveiled

Alumnae of the Massachusetts General Hospital training school for nurses presented to the hospital yesterday a portrait of Miss Sally Johnson, who since Oct. 1, 1920, has been superintendent of nurses and principal of the training school. The portrait was unveiled in the reception room of Walcott House, the nurses' residence, in Fruit street.

Miss Mary E. Shepard, superintendent of nurses at the Cambridge Hospital and president of the Nurses' Alumnae Association of the Massachusetts General Hospital, made the presentation address. Miss Mary E. Gilmore, president of the Student Nurses' Co-operative Association, unveiled the picture, which was painted by Emil Pollak-Ottendorf, a Boston artist. Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill, chairman of the board of trustees of the hospital, accepted the gift.

About 150 witnessed the ceremony, most of them alumnae of the training school.

'Abe Lincoln' Chicago Royalties Will Go to Canadian Red Cross 'All Quiet on the Western Front' Revived with Modern Prologue

By ELINOR HUGHES

It will be George M. Cohan, no less, who has the lead in Sidney Howard's "Madam, Will You Walk," following the failure of the Playwrights' Company to obtain the services of either Wilfred Lawson or Leslie Banks. Mr. Cohan, who will play the Mephistopheles in Mr. Howard's "cock-eyed" version of the Faust legend, has given up for the moment his own musical comedy, "The Musical Comedy Man" which he wrote and in which he had planned to act and to direct. . . . Speaking of the Playwrights' Company, it has been announced from Toronto that when Robert E. Sherwood's "Abe Lincoln in Illinois" is presented in that city, Mr. Sherwood will donate his royalties to the Canadian Red Cross Society, a sum which will be between $1500 and $2000.

MISS SALLY JOHNSON

PORTRAIT of Miss Sally Johnson is to be painted by Mr. Emil Pollak-Ottendorf.

It is the privilege of the Alumnae Association to honor her in this way. It is also an opportunity for each one of us to express to her our lasting appreciation of her devotion and untiring work.

She has been Principal of the Training School and Superintendent of Nurses of the Massachusetts General Hospital for nearly twenty years. Fourteen hundred nurses have become alumnae under her direction. This represents more than half the total number of M. G. H. graduates.

There is no one to whom we are more deeply indebted for the progressive development of the Training School.

A liberal donation from each graduate and friend will assure us of the needed amount. Any donation however small will be greatly appreciated.

Please mail your contribution, if possible, by May the first. Make checks payable to Mrs. Anne Lyons Twomey, Treasurer of the Alumnae Association, Massachusetts General Hospital.

Sincerely and gratefully yours,

PORTRAIT COMMITTEE:

MRS. GERARDO BALBONI,
Chairman,

MISS CARRIE HALL,

MISS MARY SHEPARD,

MISS HELEN POTTER,

MISS MARION STEVENS.
